A party of about a dozen young men went to the Nail City Brewery and demanded some beer, which was refused. The Eclipse.—The eclipse of the sun to-day is the general topic just now. While it will not be total in this region, enough of the sun will be covered to make a very interesting sight. The part eclipsed here will be .657, or almost two thirds of the sun's surface. The eclipse, as visible from this point, will begin about 4.17 P. M., and continue nearly two hours. Persons should, accordingly provide themselves with the necessary appliances for securing a satisfactory view of the unusual relation of the plant to each other. All cannot have telestate each other.
